

FCC 3101 CHAPTER 5

CAREER PROSPECTS

5.1 BSc in Civil Engineering

The Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering has four divisions: -

1) First Class Honors

GPA = 70 to 99

2) Second Class Honors (Upper Division)

GPA = 60 to 69

3) Second Class Honors (Lower Div)

GPA = 50 to 59

4) Pass: GPA = 40 to 49

5.2 Fresh Graduate Employability

Fresh graduates may have different experiences based on their degree : -

1) First Class Honors

Hard to employ: Post graduate studies

2) Second Class Honors (Upper Division)

Most easily employable

3) Second Class Honors (Lower Div)

Employable

4) Pass: Hustlers employable by other hustlers

5.3 Potential Employers

The potential employers of fresh graduates in Civil Engineering are: -

- 1) Central government and Parastatals
- 2) County governments
- 3) Consulting firms and consultant Engs
- 4) Contracting firms
- 5) Learning institutions
- 6) NGOs and International organizations

5.4 Career Development [Consultant Engineer]

The career development for the best case scenario is as follows: -

- 1) Internship (1 year)
- 2) On-the-job training (2 years)
- [Registration as Professional engineer]
- 3) Work experience
- 4) CPD points
- } (3 to 5 years)
- [Registration as Consultant engineer]

5.5 Graduate Engineers Internship Program [GEIP]

GEIP is a structured 3 year program fully funded by the government through EBK.

Graduate Engineers are given Internship opportunities: -

- 1) To work under close supervision by their mentors
- 2) To gain professional experience and competency which is needed for PE eligibility

2022/2023 FY, EBK inducted 120 interns under GEIP

2023/2024 FY, EBK targets 500 interns.

5.6 Career Development [Contractor Engineer]

The career development for the best case scenario is as follows: -

- 1) On-the-job training (1 years)
 - 2) Clerk of Works (2 years)
 - [Registration as Professional engineer]
 - 3) Work experience
 - 4) CPD points
 - [Qualify to be Site engineer]
- } (3 to 5 years)

FCC 3101

CHAPTER 5

THE END